

Bryan Zhu

Rising freshman, Bellevue Senior High School, Bellevue, WA

Autobiography:

Hey all! I'm Bryan from greater Seattle, WA, and no longer a senior at Bellevue High School as of two days ago. I've been fascinated by both math and computer science since elementary school, and in the past few years I've also developed an interest in AI. I especially find anything Markov/DP/recursion-related intriguing, including reinforcement learning and state-based combinatorics.

In my free time, I enjoy going out with friends for food or milk tea (not boba, by the way—huge difference!), playing poker, playing with my two Pomeranians Pom and Snow, or listening to jazz. I've had a blast competing in various AI olympiads these past couple years, and I've met so many new amazing people through these competitions. I'm excited to meet everyone in Astana and compete one last time.
